2018 NACNS Annual Meeting Exhibit Hall Schedule

We are excited to host our meeting at the Renaissance Arboretum in Austin, Texas from Wednesday, February 28 to Saturday, March 3! The 2018 NACNS Annual Meeting is an excellent opportunity for our partners to interact with more than 500 attendees, the vast majority of whom are clinical nurse specialists, one of the four types of advanced practice registered nurses.

Clinical nurse specialists (CNSs) are frequently in decision-making positions, with 9 out of 10 actively involved in purchasing decisions at their facilities. Also, CNSs have prescriptive authority in 39 states and can practice independently in 28 states.

Meeting exhibitors have consistently commented that attendees at the NACNS meetings spend dedicated time at the exhibits and actively interact with vendors about their products and services. Please join us!
