The Society of Pediatric Nursing has a CNS special interest group (SIG). The co-chairs of the SIG, Ashley Van Drunen and Chris Divens, reached out to NACNS. They are interested in developing initiatives targeted at promoting the role of the pediatric CNS. One possible outcome of the work would be a position statement or white paper on the importance and value of the pediatric CNS.

President of NANN approached me at the summit and would like to join NACNS and SPN in this work. This will be a good partnership. Vince attempted again to reach out to see if they still wanted to proceed.

This paper has been released. The Task force hosted a forum to discuss white paper recommendations.

iii. National Student Nurses' Association

Annual Convention in Nashville the first week of April. We have 1 speaker slot on Friday for a clinical presentation. NACNS will not exhibit this year, but use the funds to pay for travel for speaker and send promotional materials. Susan Smith and Michelle Miller (Infection Control TF) will be presenting.

2 webinars being developed and provided to NSNA for free. I presented one in February which had over 150 attendees. Wayne Quashie will be presenting another in April.

I wrote an article in their journal highlighting the role of the CNS last fall.

iv. American Psychiatric Nurses Association

Vince attended the APNA meeting in January which evaluated and discussed current and future state. He shared concerns of the gap created by eliminating PMH CNSs. There are still several PMH CNSs that needed to transition to NPs. As this group decreases through retirement/attrition, the nursing sphere and system sphere will not be served. Who will mentor/train/coach/develop RNs to care for the mental health population? Who will create protocols for EDs and outpatient centers to follow EBP for the PMH population? We will be left with all Direct Care Practitioners (which is also projected to be at a large deficit).

- Partnership opportunities with Industry Partners:
 - Abbott Healthcare Melanie Schuster and Mary Malone represented NACNS in review of the Strengthwise Modules. Tracy Chamblee and JoEllen Rust will represent NACNS to review an educational presentation regarding interventions for children at risk for malnutrition and/or failure to thrive. This agreement would be similar to the strengthwise module review. Melinda is pursuing this agreement.
